TOWNSHIP PROTESTS AGAINST JAPANESE COMING TO DISTRICT TOWN MOTION IS WITHDRAWN

Town Fathers Take Opportunity Of Expressing Themselves On Matter Before Subject Dropped — Motion Was To Endorse Similar Resolution By County Council.

While members of the Grimsby town council made it abundantly clear that they have little use for members of the Japanese race, they refused to act upon a motion introduced by Reeve William Lothian endorsing the motion passed at last month's meeting of the Lincoln County Council protesting against the action of the Dominion Government in settling some of the Japanese families evacuated from the Canadian West Coast in Beamsville.

In passing the resolution unanimously, the County Council, of which Reeve Lothian is a member, ordered copies of it sent to the municipalities of the county for their endorsement. Beamsville and South Grimsby have already done so and a motion to that effect was passed at last Saturday's meeting of the North Grimsby Township Council.

When the motion was introduced, Councillor D. E. Anderson remarked that such an action might prove "embarrassing" to the government.

"They have to pick them up in British Columbia and put them somewhere," he remarked.

"I'm rather pleased that the lumber camps have changed their minds about bringing them there, but I am sorry that they are coming into this part of the country," remarked Mayor Edric Johnson. The mayor remarked that he had been told that there were some Japanese coming to Grimsby to be employed in a local factory, and other councillors told of hearing the same rumour.

"What are these Japs to do? It is questionable that we should object. The basket factories need help badly, and if they see fit to distribute them in scattered parts of the country, I think it is all right to have some of them here," said Councillor Anderson.

"It's a very awkward situation," remarked Mayor Johnson.

"Well, I think they have as much right to Ontario as they have to British Columbia," Mr. Anderson commented.

It was at this point that Councillor Lothian withdrew his motion.

Councillor Baker remarked that there were some "good people of all nationalities," to which the mayor took emphatic exception. "I don't agree," he retorted. "I don't think there is a German fit to live on the face of the earth. I wouldn't trust them at all."

"Nor the Japs either," interjected Councillor Lewis.

"Japs or Germans either," amended the mayor. "I have no use for them and would exterminate them all. I suppose that it is right that they should be given some useful occupation where they would be useful to the war effort. There is no way we can go against the wishes of the government in this matter. I would like to have them all (the Japanese) in the Pacific Ocean and under R."

LEGION BINGO WAS SUCCESS

Many Grimsby People Prize Winners At Beamsville Party Last Week.

Officials of West Lincoln Branch No. 127, the Canadian Legion, describe their "poultry bingo" held in the Community Hall, Beamsville, last Friday, as a "most successful". The bingo, which is a departure from the usual Legion Carnival held about this time in former years, had for its prizes turkeys and chickens, as well as several cash prizes. It was in charge of the same committee which was responsible for the series of bingos held last year, of which William Liles is the chairman.

Prize winners, many of whom were Grimsby residents, were the following: Helen Lothian, Niagara Falls; Mrs. E. Siskerman, Grimsby Beach; Mrs. R. Henley, Grimsby; G. Lucy, Grimsby; F. Silversmith, Grimsby; J. H. Dawe, Beamsville; May Poole, Beamsville; D. Young, Vineland; James W. Baker, Grimsby; M. H. Menzies, Niagara Falls; Dr. C. W. Elmore, Beamsville; Ann Taylor, Hamilton; Rose Clay, Grimsby; Mrs. J. H. Culp, Beamsville; John Beloot, St. Anne.

Add New Fiction To Public Library

Boy Scout Apple Day is Grimsby was an unqualified success. Every detail had been worked out in advance, and the results were more than gratifying, not only to the Scouts themselves and their leaders, but to all who had any part in the venture, not forgetting the many pleased patrons.

The sum realized was $115.00.

Prizes were given for the best decorated basket, the winners being Lorne Lindemann, George Bedford, and Havelock Jevson. The prize for the best poster went to Leon Betzner, with second and third prizes awarded to Almand Kutnik and Don McAlister. Albert Mason was the prizewinner for selling the greatest number of apples.

Judges for baskets and posters were Mrs. Hartland Dixon, Miss Helen Kirk, Claude Noden and C. Watkins.

The money will be used to pay the Scouts' registration fee in the Boy Scout Association at Toronto, and a donation will be made to the Scouts' "China-Uy" fund, which provides comforts for Scouts in England who have suffered in the blitz.

The Scouts say "Thank you" to the officials at the Experimental Station at Vineland for kindly donating the apples for Apple Day, to the judges in the contests, and to the Grimsby Independent and the local merchants for their co-operation.

Council Protests New Truck Ruling

Township Solons State Thirty-five Mile Regulations Will Affect Fruit Business In Peninsula.

At last Saturday's meeting of the North Grimsby Township Council, Reeve Charles Durham was appointed to issue the hunting license for pheasant shooting in the township under the same conditions as last year.

A strong resolution protesting the proposed restrictions on the trucking of fruit was moved by Councillor William Mitchell. The new regulation, according to Mr. Mitchell, would restrict the hauling of produce any further than 35 miles after November 1st.

"The law, if enforced, would be simply disastrous to the distribution of fruit and other produce in the county," said Mr. Mitchell in his resolution.

Township assessor J. G. Metcalfe was authorized to attend the meeting of assessors being held in Toronto today and tomorrow and his expenses will be paid.

Only three of the five councillors were present for Saturday's meeting. They included, besides Councillor Mitchell Reeve Durham and Deputy Reeve George Crittenden.

Court Of Revision Will Sit Oct. 29

Mayor Edric Johnson, Reeve William Lothian and Councillors D. E. Anderson, A. B. Bourne and R. H. Lewis are to sit as a court of revision on Thursday, October 29, to hear appeals from property owners on their assessments. Mayor Johnson reported that the court session, which begins at seven thirty in the evening, would probably be light, as only one notice of appeal had been filed up to last night, and today is the last day on which appeals would be entertained.

"If we make this grant, won't we have to do the same thing for every other organization which asks for a grant?" asked Councillor D. E. Anderson.

Away Back When

— BY FRANK FAIRBORN, JR. —

OCTOBER, the month when the frost is on the pumpkin and the corn is in the shock; when the bright, sunshiny days of Indian Summer make one feel that life is really worth living; when Mother Nature with her paint brush turns the countryside into Kaleidoscopic panorama of color no artist can emulate; the month of husking bees, cider making and youthful romancing under a Harvest Moon.

I write this week of October 1912—30 Autumns ago. — The late E. A. Lancaster, K.C., M.P. (Lincoln's Lan) announced that he had been successful in securing a new post office building for Grimsby and tenders were being called for. The building was to be 40'x72' with the deck tower 84' high.

On Monday, October 14th, the new Carnegie Library was opened to the public. The building stands today, as a monument to the hard work and perseverance of James Aitchison, who labored for years to finally secure assistance from the Carnegie Library Foundation for funds for its construction. Miss Myrtle Forman was the first librarian in the new building, which is 48'x26' with 14' ceilings.

A real estate deal that ran up into the thousands of dollars took place this month when A. F. Hawke purchased the fine, large fruit farm of the late L. L. Hagar, C. H. Kirk and the late Charlie McCartney, then in the real estate business, put through the deal. In the transaction Mr. Hagar took the Hawke residence at the corner of Main and Robinson streets.

Going farther than 30 years, I have pleasant memories of Sol. Wiener's old cooper shop, on the top of the Clarke Street hill, with Solly Wiener, Denny Fisher and many other coopers working like mad all day and half the night, to keep the apple growers of the district supplied with barrels. How the result of a lucky "buy", patrons will be pleased to find several hundred works of fiction placed on the shelves recently for their entertainment.

BIG PARADE NEXT TUESDAY TO INAUGURATE LOAN IN GRIMSBY AND DISTRICT FEATURES SOLDIERS, SAILORS AND AIRMEN; KILTIES AND LINCOLN AND WELLAND BAND WILL LEAD

First Bond Bought Last Night As Local Campaign Arrangements Completed.

Aim For $190,000

Grimsby and the district is being called upon to loan the federal government one hundred and ninety thousand dollars, according to A. R. Globe, local chairman of the Victory Loan Campaign.

This figure, which was announced today, has been set as the objective for the Town of Grimsby and the Township of North Grimsby, and local salesmen, who are charged with the responsibility of putting the Loan over, are confident that they will be able to realize this amount. It is less by several dollars than the total subscribed in the last campaign.

Headquarters for the local drive have been opened in the Stephen Block, and the local telephone number is 16. Those desiring information may obtain it by calling that number.

Grants Made For Christmas Boxes

The L.O.D.E. War Services Committee received two grants of seventy-five dollars each from the councils of the Town of Grimsby and the Township of North Grimsby. The grant from the town was passed unanimously when it was pointed out that a similar grant had been made last year.

"If we make this grant, won't we have to do the same thing for every other organization which asks for a grant?" asked Councillor D. E. Anderson.

All Organizations To Be Represented As Flag From Old Country And Commando Dugouts Received At High School Grounds — Leaflet Raid 1. Afternoon Of Rally.

One of the most impressive parades held in this community will be witnessed here next Tuesday evening when, led by the thirty-piece band of the Lincoln and Welland Regiment, a detachment of Naval cadets from Hamilton, a detachment of the Royal Canadian Air Force from St. Catharines, and a kiltie regimental band from St. Catharines, practically all organizations of the town will march to the High School grounds.

The parade, which forms up at Main and Robinson Streets, is scheduled to move off sharply at seven thirty, and the proceedings at the High School are to start at eight sharp. At the High School grounds the marchers will witness the presentation of a "blitz" flag and a commando dagger. W. Gallichan will carry the flag, and the commando dagger will be carried by Fred Jenson.

A prominent speaker will be present to outline the purpose of the Loan, and Dr. J. G. Fox of St. Catharines, chairman of the Lincoln County War Finance Committee, will talk on "Grimsby's achievement in war finance." The Victory Loan speaker will be introduced by Mayor Edric Johnson. The "blitz" flag to be presented was sent to Grimsby by Lieut.-Col. Gordon A. Sinclair of the Royal Canadian Medical Corps. It flew for a long time over a drill hall in Great Britain, and its smoke-bearded colours testify to the holocaust which has raged around it.

"It will be one of the best things of its kind that has been seen here for sometime," said A. R. Globe, chairman of the local Victory Loan Committee. "We are hoping that every organization will be represented, and that the whole town will turn out to witness this inspiring sight. We have the two bands, the naval cadets and the Air Force men, as well as a detachment of the second reserve battalion of the Lincoln and Welland Regiment."

In the afternoon of the parade, a squadron of planes from the Royal Canadian Air Force will will carry on a leaflet raid over the town. They are expected here at five thirty.

OFFER PROPERTY TO HIGHWAYS DEPARTMENT AT LOW FIGURE

Councillors Hope Move Planned For Highways Offices Here Will Be Reconsidered — Preparations For New Offices Nearly Completed.

The Anderson property, on Main Street East, is to be offered to the Ontario Department of Highways for a nominal one dollar, it was decided by the Grimsby Town Council last night. This price is a big reduction on the tax sale value of the property, which now stands at about three thousand dollars.

The move was made when it was pointed out that there was a distinct possibility of the highway office being moved to Dundas. Work on the hundred acre farm buildings which the Department bought there is now nearly finished.

"I would be willing to do anything I could to retain the highway office here," said Mayor Johnson. "I hope we can be successful. Any effort we have made is all to the good, and anything we may be able to do in the future will be that much better."

Mention of the possible transfer of the district offices from Grimsby was the first public mention that has been made of the contemplated move, though it has been common knowledge for nearly four months that departmental officials were planning the transfer.

Heavy Damage Results When Poles Are Hit

Repairs To Cost Thousands After Heavy Transport Breaks Long Distance Wires Near Grimsby

One of the most costly accidents in this district for some time occurred Sunday morning when a tractor-trailer transport left No. 8 highway three miles west of town and tore up three telephone poles carrying some three hundred pairs of wires in an important Toronto-Buffalo line. The truck was completely demolished and repairs to the wires will not be completed for some time, though temporary repairs, which enable a reduced telephone traffic to be operated, were effected late Sunday night by H. N. Heard, construction superintendent, and C. W. Holcombe, installation repair superintendent, of the Hamilton Division of the Bell Telephone Company. While these temporary repairs were being made it was necessary to re-route all calls from Grimsby eastward.

The transport vehicle, which was completely wrecked, was in charge of Ralph Johnston, Port Dalhousie, who told Provincial Constable A. E. Reilly that he had fallen asleep at the wheel. He escaped with bruises, cuts and a severe shelling. D. L. Morrissey, who resides near the scene of the impact, was the first on the scene, and he rendered what aid he could to the injured man. Johnson will appear in St. Catharines police court before Magistrate J. H. Campbell on October 29 to answer a charge of careless driving laid by Constable Reilly.

In addition to about two thousand dollars damage to the transport, it is thought that complete repairs to the telephone wires would amount to several thousands of dollars.

Theft, Receiving Counts Laid After Local Robbery

Juvenile Among Three Charged After Smokes, Chocolate Bars Stolen — St. Kitt's Man Said Receiver.

Two youths, one a juvenile, and one forty year old man are to appear in St. Catharines police court this morning to answer charges arising out of the breaking and entering of Frank Johnson's stand on No. 8 Highway west of here recently, during which a quantity of cigarettes, and chocolate bars valued at about $25, were taken.

James Stewart, 17, of Hamilton was the first arrested, being picked up in St. Catharines by a member of the provost corps for wearing a reserve army uniform without authority. On being turned over to the police, he was questioned regarding the robbery, and his remarks are said to have implicated the juvenile, who was picked up in Louth township, and James H. Bradley faced a charge of receiving and retaining stolen goods in his possession.

Magistrate J. H. Campbell on October 29 to answer a charge of careless driving laid by Constable Reilly.

In addition to about two thousand dollars damage to the transport, it is thought that complete repairs to the telephone wires would amount to several thousands of dollars.

Growth In Christ

St. Luke 2:40-52; Hebrews 5:11-14;
2 Peter 1:1-8.

GOLDEN TEXT

Grew in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ—2 Peter 3:18.

An introduction to the Lesson. Growth in grace is growth in Christ, ever becoming more like Him, that the world may see Him in us. To this end we need to study the word of God and to spend much time in communion with our Heavenly Father by prayer and meditation.

A Lesson Outline
Progress in the Life of Faith—
2 Peter 1.

Faith—the root (verse 1); an expanding life (verse 2); increasing knowledge (verse 3); fellowship with God (verse 4a); Deliverance from sin's power (verse 4b); manifestation of Christian virtues (verses 5-7); fruitfulness in service (verse 8).

The Heart of The Lesson
We all love a baby. It's very helplessness and immaturity appeal to us. But how sad when a child never advances to full growth in body and mind! Of how many is this true spiritually if we neglect our privileges and remain babes in Christ when we should become strong. There can be no real growth without prayer and study of God's word and living in fellowship with Him.

An Application
A growing Christian is a fruit-bearing Christian, whereas a stunted believer will have a fruitless life. Let us by prayer, and meditation on God's word, grow in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

Dr. Lindsay of Boston gives this definition of Grace: Grace is giving to someone, that which he needs instead of what he deserves. He said that when he was teaching a class of boys in Scotland he found difficulty in explaining to them the grace of God until a rather trying incident happened. One day, as he was walking down the road one of the boys tried to knock off his high silk hat with a stone. "He missed the hat and struck my head. Seeing the mishap, the boy scampered off through the field. I decided to practice grace on him and bought him a fishing rod. I took it over to his house for his mother to give it to him for a birthday present from me. Along about dark there was a knock at my door and when I opened it the boy said, 'Here is your fishing rod, you did not know I was the boy'

Winona Beach

That fine stretch of sand and gravel known as Winona Beach owes its existence to a wharf built by the Wilson family some time before the War of 1812.

The Wilsons were among the earliest settlers in the Winona district, and their home stood close to the lake bank, for the lake was then the main highway. Like Colonel Robert Nelles at the Forty, one of the first things they did was to build a wharf. It extended three or four hundred feet into the lake and the largest lake vessels called there for cargoes of grain, lumber and cordwood, bringing in supplies of merchandise. This trade flourished until the coming of the railway in the 1850's. The first locomotive to run on this section of the railway came by boat to Wilsons' wharf, was unloaded there and made its way, most likely under its own steam, to the newly built stretch of track at Winona.

The wharf was in existence until quite recent years, and there are probably stout remains of it under water. Its chief value since the coming of the railway was to protect the shoreline in its vicinity from erosion. The storms that cause the most destruction on the south shore of Lake Ontario are from the east, and the Winona pier held the sand on its east side until a beach from 100 to 200 feet wide, and extending a couple of miles, was formed. This protected the lake bank from being eaten into by even the worst gales. On the west side of the pier where there was no sand barrier, the waves scooped out a deep cove, and in time wiped out the grove near the Wilson homestead.

John Wilson was a member of the Upper Canada Assembly, when that body met at Newark (Niagara-on-the-Lake). He was the grandfather of Thos. L. Wilson, the discoverer of the commercial process of producing calcium carbide and acetylene gas.

If we were faultless we should not be so much annoyed by the defects of those with whom we associate.—Fusion.

Ten thousand of the greatest faults in our neighbours are of less consequence to us than one or the smallest in ourselves.—Whately.

who hit you with that rock this morning?" "Yes I did know you were the boy and that's why I gave you the fishing rod, don't you remember what I was teaching you about grace last Sunday? I was practicing grace. You don't deserve the fishing rod, but you need it, and I wanted to give it to you."—From Baptist Y.P.U. Quarterly.

Spice And All That's Nice

Do you ever wonder what you are going to use when the present stock of spices become exhausted? The only spices of which there is much likelihood to be a shortage are ginger, allspice, cinnamon, nutmeg, cloves, mace and white pepper. Of these, there is sufficient on hand to last at least a year and a half, and for most of them a substitute can be found. For instance, in any recipe calling for cloves, nutmeg and cinnamon, allspice may be used; it tastes like a blend of all three.

Dill seed may be used for caraway, and black pepper for white kinds of cookery. Anise may sometimes pinch-hit for mace; while mixed cake spices, ground cardamom or anise may take the place of cinnamon in cakes, cookies and pie filling.

It has been ascertained that every known herb and spice can be grown successfully in the Western Hemisphere, and this will no doubt eventually be done.

For those who like their food hot, there is plenty of cayenne, red pepper, mustard, chili powder, dill, celery seed and black pepper.

Singing Poem

It came out of the White Elephant Shop, our poem for this week. It fairly sings at you, doesn't it? Poetry should sing, but too much of it has a pretty doleful melody. For all that, it may be good poetry.

It must have been our lucky day when we dropped into the White Elephant and, poking around, discovered a pair of very good stockings, English, and neatly matted and framed. One, St. Paul's from over the river, and the other a lace near the New Forest, with a flock of sheep ambling through, followed by the shepherd and his dog.

When they were brought home the back fell out of one (backs are the most vulnerable part of pictures; they're always on the point of falling out.) Behind the veneer back was part of an old Saturday Night, dated December 28th, 1822, and looking out of it was Miss Carter's "Where is Heaven?"

Some may not agree with its theology, and for some it may be too sentimental. But the sentiment is good, and best of all is the happy singing rhythm of the little poem.

"It's All Over Town"

The other day a doctor's wife in a certain small town received a cable from her husband in the Middle East. Very glad she was to know he was safe and well.

Shortly after the cable arrived two yachlemen called to see her to hand over a sum of money for a charity in which she and her husband are interested.

That was all. But neighbours had seen these happenings, and by the following noon it was rumoured in the town that the doctor was missing, that he was a prisoner of war, seriously wounded, ill in hospital, or had been torpedoed at sea or accidentally killed by a bomb.

Our Weekly Recipe

The sub-heading for this recipe is, "Instead of cake," and it is a true word. It might just as well have been called cake in the first place.

PRUNE LOAF—One cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 2½ cups graham flour, ½ cup brown sugar (we hope you can manage to extract this from your ration), 1 cup milk, ½ cup prune juice, 1 egg, beaten, 1 tablespoon melted shortening, 1 cup soaked prunes chopped fine.

Sift the flour, salt and baking powder; add the graham flour and sugar. Mix the milk, prune juice, egg and shortening. Stir into the dry ingredients. Fold in the prunes. Place in a long loaf pan and bake for 55 to 60 minutes at 325 deg. F.

This cake-loaf keeps moist, and is just the thing for lunch boxes.

Lost Lake Road

In the year 1810 a "survey of a New Road" was made by Augustus John. A sketch of the road is still in existence, signed by the surveyor, and dated 1st December.

From a point near the east end of Hamilton Beach the "new road" followed the lake shore to the Fifty Mile Creek, thence turning inland to the old road to Niagara—now No. 8 Highway.

When the strained relations between Great Britain and the United States began to cast the shadows of the War of 1812 before the people of Canada, the improvement of roads that would serve the purposes of defense became an urgent problem. Above all, better lines of communication from the Niagara frontier to Burlington Heights, and thence along the shore of Lake Ontario to York and Kingston, where gunboats might co-operate in attack and defense, were needed. The only road running "under the mountain" from the Niagara River to the head of the lake was little better than a trail.

Active building of the road probably commenced in 1811, and it could only have been put into condition for transport when the war broke out.

To this road came the garrison from Fort George when it retired after the capture of that post by the Americans, and along the same road came a party of the American army when it advanced to take Burlington Heights and hold the lake shore region to York which had already been captured by another force under General Pike.

We all know how this plan was nipped in the bud by Col. Harvey in the skirmish at Niarbyl Creek, and as a result the whole American campaign of 1812, far in Upper Canada was brought to confusion and failure.

At the time the road was constructed only nine ploughs were noted on the map as having settled along the shore of the lake between the eastern end of Burlington Beach to the point marked "30-mile creek." At the homestead of Obadiah King, a little to the west of the Fifty, the road jogged by angles inland, passing the Willow home, on the way, and coming out at Isaac Smith's lane to join the Niagara road.

Augustus Jones, father of Rev. Peter Jones, missionary to the Indians, made a great number of surveys for the early settlements in various parts of the Province. He worked under General Brock, with whom he was on intimate terms.

Twenty years ago a single vestige of this military road led east of Winona, and may still be there.

Autumn

Spring is too sickle; Winter too cold.
Summer too hot; also too bold.
Autumn is colourful, cool and gay—
Only one flaw, too short her stay.

—Marie Claybig Bunting

Our Weekly Poem

WHERE IS HEAVEN?

Where is Heaven? Is it not Just a friendly garden plot,
Walled with stones and roofed with sun.

Where the days pass one by one,
Not too fast and not too slow,
Looking backward as they go
To transport the pensive mind.

Does not Heaven begin that day
When the eager heart can say,
Surely God is in this place,
I have seen his face to face
In the loveliness of flowers,

In the service of the slaves,
And His voice has talked to me
In the smilting apple tree.

Fall Cleaning Of Home Furniture Becomes Big Job

Cleaning furniture can become quite a business. Particularly in the fall when "clean-up" is in order and when furniture gets more than a lick and a promise. It is pointed out that it is wise to remember how best furniture may be cleaned.

Specifically, use soft cheese-cloth, or any other soft cloth for dusting. Don't use an old, dirty cloth, and don't use one that leaves dust.

Wash furniture with "green soap" a good grade soft soap sold in most drug stores. Put a teaspoonful of it on a soft cloth soaked in hot water, and rub it on the polished surface until a heavy lather is worked up. After this, take another cloth dampened in tepid water, wipe the surface clean. Complete the job by wiping it a second time with a soft dry cloth. White soap that is pure and neutral will do the job, but be sure that it is not an alkali soap.

Always rub the wood with the grain. White spots on furniture that has been finished with varnish can usually be removed by rubbing lightly with a piece of fine furniture polish.

Oil On The Waters

To pour oil on the troubled sea, according to a very old figure of speech, to soothe a troubled spirit, or to bring peace in any other way. Oil, spreading over the face of the waters, actually serves to still them, we are told by good authorities. Commodore Wilkes, a famous commander of the old United States Navy, saw the effect of stilling the waters produced during a violent storm off the Cape of Good Hope, Africa, by oil that leaked from a whaling vessel.

The phrase is very old. The effect of oil on the water is mentioned in a book written as long ago as the seventh century by the famous Bede. The story goes that Saint Aldan gave a cruise of oil to a young priest about to go on a sea voyage, and told him to pour it on the waters if they became turbulent. A storm did arise, and the young man, pouring oil on the waters, did actually reduce them to a calm. Bede says that he had the story from "a most creditable man in holy orders."

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

FRAMING YOUR SNAPSHOTS

Have you ever thought of "framing" members of your family in an open window? Try it. If you want results like this.

MORE people have probably been "framed" photographically and lived to tell the tale than you could count in a forty-hour week. Furthermore, they've probably looked all the better for it. Photography is like that.

For instance, just take a look at our illustration. Isn't it a simple, charming shot? You bet it is. Lots of the charm, of course, is due to the pleasant expression of the little girl. But, I think you can charge a lot more off to the setting—to the fact that the subject in this case is "framed" by the open window.

If you keep your eyes open, you'll find that there are lots of potential "frames" like that through which you can picture your subjects. Doorways viewed from inside or out are always excellent; the window of an automobile is another possibility; arches of any sort are good; a canopy of trees, or an overhanging branch with a lot of leaves will make excellent framing material. Look for places through which you can view your subject, and you'll have the idea down pat.

However, here's a tip. In making such pictures, because of the wide discrepancy in distance which frequently exists between the frame and your subject, you'll need all the photographic depth of field that you can possibly secure. Therefore, use a small lens aperture. Small lens apertures give greater depth of field, and in cases like this will help keep all objects in the picture sharp and clear.

Try "framing" your subjects the next time you make pictures—and see if it doesn't give you more attractive and interesting results. John van Culler

RADIO SPOTLIGHT

DIALING WITH DAVE...

What does the phrase "Public Opinion" mean to you? According to the dictionary, it means—"Common opinion, when it manifests itself as a mass judgment or conclusion. Example: a law enforced by public opinion". Now, that seems rather complicated, doesn't it, but actually it's quite simple. Now, you are probably wondering why the sudden interest in public opinion—well—we have a very good reason, because every Wednesday night at 8:00 o'clock a half hour of entertainment is based on that phrase "Public Opinion". In the form of a quiz, the program offers a high degree of entertainment, with real money making opportunities, as well as giving you a chance to compare your ideas with those of the general opinions of the public. How's that for an interesting line up? Don't miss it—8:00 o'clock every Wednesday night, from CKOC.

Very much to the fore right now, is Canada's Third Victory Loan drive, and every public-spirited, country-loving individual is giving the drive his whole-hearted support. As additional selling vehicles, the Dominion Government are using some thought-provoking radio programs, and as a further reminder, we'll tell you about them. Of interest to the ladies, in particular, is Claire Wallace and Todd Russell in their daily quarter hour program at 1:45. And directly fitting in with this theme, is the All Star Variety Show on Wednesdays at 8:00 p.m. It's a full hour of "all-star" variety entertainment, and definitely merits your attention. Then for drama, there is Nazi Eyes on Canada! And remember, that is not just the name of a program, it is a true fact! Based on authentic stories, this Sunday evening at 7:30 a half hour program again helps to arouse interest in the War Savings and Victory Loan Drive. What is more, you hear them all from 1150 on the radio dial—CKOC!

We have a new addition to our Sunday on CKOC Schedule! On Sunday afternoon at 2:30, the Master Singers take to the air—sixteen of the most harmoniously blended voices on the radio today. In this quarter hour, the Master Singers, under the very capable leadership of Walter Preston, sing the songs everyone knows and likes to hear. In view of the fact that they have a very extensive repertoire—including the old familiar ballads, songs with the Latin influence, popular ditties, and negro spirituals—this Sunday quarter hour at 2:30 is designed to suit everyone. Will you give it a listen?

How much do you know about the various decorations for valour in the Canadian Army? Not very much? Well, in that case, you shouldn't miss Badge of Honour, that weekly quarter hour program—Sundays at 12:45—based on stories of the bravery of Canadian soldiers in both the past and present war. This is entertaining, educational and informative listening at 12:45 o'clock each Sunday.

Apart from our regular news on the hour every hour throughout the day, we present Dr. E. T. Salmon with his analysis of the daily happenings in the various world-wide war fronts. During the week—Monday through Friday—Dr. Salmon is heard at 7:00 p.m. and on Sundays at 6:00, from CKOC.

РИGOROUS TRAINING FOR BOMB CREWS IN R.A.F.—CHECK EACH PLANE REPORTED SHOT DOWN

By An Air Correspondent

"JUNKERS 88 approaching dead astern, 700 yards!" the gunner said.

Sounds like an attack. But it can't be, for the gunner is squatting in front of an oblong mirror reflecting the "flight" of a scale model airplane. The mirror, with a sight exactly the same as the one in a gunner's turret, approaches or recedes simultaneously with the movements of the airplane. "Clouds" on the wall behind the model plane are also reflected in the mirror. As the mirror comes closer, the outline of the aircraft becomes larger, and the gunner is expected to judge the distance and direction of the attack.

This is just one of the elaborate devices the R.A.F. uses to train the gunners of a bombing crew. In another, called the "spotlight trainer," the gunner has to keep his guns trained on a small cross of light thrown from a lamp in a dark room on to the inner surface of a huge concrete bowl set on its side. The gunner sits in a turret and the light is whisked about in disconcertingly erratic fashion. Another light shines from the guns. The squadron gunnery officer can see at once whether the gunner is aiming correctly. At most bomber stations, a gunner spends three or four hours each week practising for half an hour at a time in the Spotlight Trainer.

During his training the gunner learns immediate aircraft recognition. By the setting of the engine, the curve of a wing, or the tilt of a trail, he must be able to recognise instantly whether an aircraft is an enemy or friend. He must have what occultists and psychologists call an "eidetic image" in his brain of every type of British, Allied and Axis aircraft.

The shadowgraph helps the gunner to form such a galactic of mental images. This is a screen on which a large circle represents the ringed head sight of his gun turret. At one side of the screen is an electric light, and between the light and the screen accurate scale models of aircraft are manipulated so that the gunner on the other side of the screen can watch the outline of the model grow larger or smaller, twist or dive. By the size of the model silhouette in the ring he learns to judge its distance.

By the time a gunner has gone through the Initial Training Wing, Air Gunners' School and the Operational Training Unit, he knows enough to continue his training in action against the enemy. But the practice he gets against Mouserschmitts is not enough; and so there is a special organisation to pass on, for the benefit of all, the knowledge that each gunner gains in battle.

After battle the squadron gunnery officer writes a summary of every encounter. A gunner who claims to have shot down a fighter is closely questioned by Intelligence officers. Two members of the crew must have seen the enemy aircraft go down in flames or crash on the ground, before it can be claimed as destroyed. The squadron gunnery officer's report is sent to the Group Gunnery Leader, who circulates it among all the stations of the Group.

Here, for example, is the report of a battle between a Halifax and one of Germany's newest fighters, a Focke-Wulf 190.

all the time, and again rear gunner opened fire with a three-second burst. Fighter appeared to stall and spin. Strike observed and enemy claimed as damaged.

"Half an hour later the aircraft was again attacked. Same procedure of lights on ground observed at 800 yards. At 600 yards enemy aircraft opened fire. Rear gunner withheld fire until range had fallen to 300 yards, then opened fire with five-second burst. Almost at once fighter stopped firing, caught fire, and was seen to crash and explode on hitting ground."

The comment by the Group Gunnery Leader on this report was: "Both encounters probably with same fighter. This is the first time we have had encounters with an F.W. 190. Evasive action was in good time, and rear gunner put in some excellent shooting."

Training, concentrated and continuous, in the air as on the ground, was responsible for this success. To prepare the gunners for battles such as this, "fighter affiliation" practice is arranged between bombers and fighters. Gunnery consequently becomes one of the more important items in training bomber crews, for every bomber that goes over Germany must be ready for fighting in self-defense.

Every man alone is sincere. At the entrance of a second person, hypocrisy begins. We parry and feign the approach of our fellow man by compliments, by gossip, by amusements, by affairs. We cover up our thought from him under a hundred folds.—R. W. Emerson.

VICTORY LOAN DRIVE FOR $750,000,000 OPENS MONDAY

We will push on to Victory!

WHEN FRANCE FELL, and Britain stood with her back to the wall, one strong jaw jutted out, and the grip of one clenched fist shook the Empire.

It was Churchill hurling Britain's decision across the channel. Quit?... Never!... Fight?... Yes, through the hell of adversity till victory is won.

Today Canadians face challenge after challenge with the same unconquerable spirit. Today we are asked to do without so that our fighting men will have everything they need—when they smash straight into the heart of enemy defences.

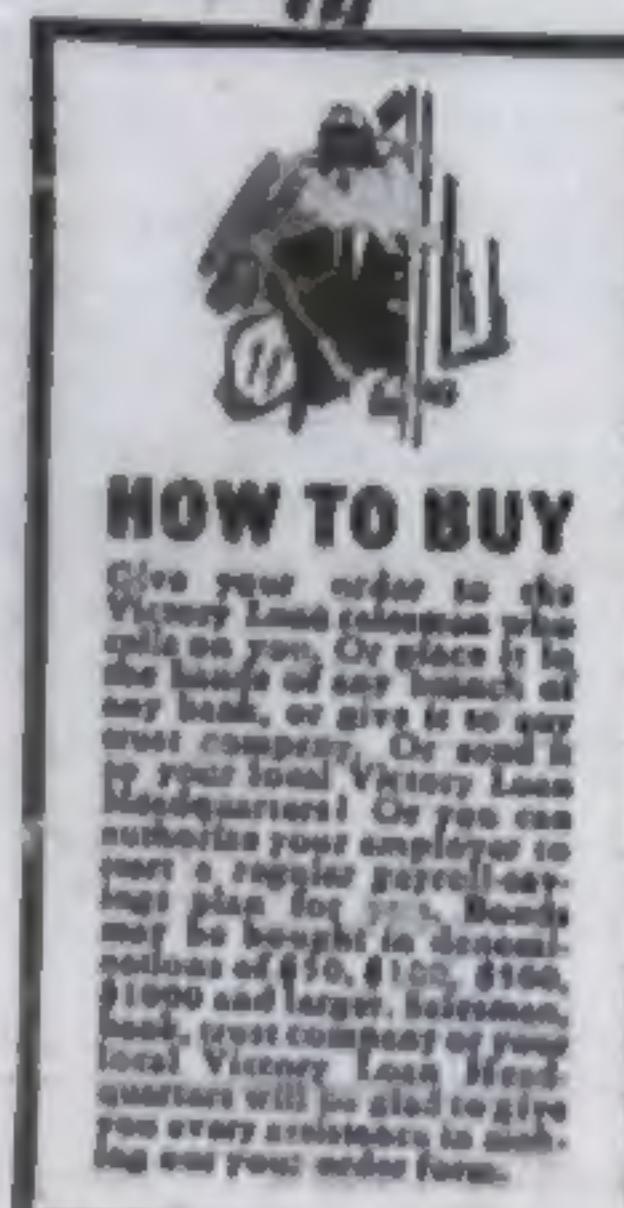

Canada's ringing answer to this latest challenge will be:

"Yes, we'll fight with the last ounce of our strength, and the last dollar we can earn and save."

Canada's Victory Loan drive opens Monday. Canada's Victory Loan representative will ask for your answer soon. Will it be "No, I do not choose to do my part"?

Or will it be "Yes! Yes!! Yes!!! I will buy Victory Bonds! I will lend all my support to help make victory sure."

You will be laying up for yourself the best of all investments—VICTORY BONDS are backed by all the resources of the Dominion of Canada; they yield a fair rate of interest; you can borrow against them; and they are readily salable when you need the cash.

HOW TO BUY

Give your order to the Victory Loan collector who will see you. Or place it in the hands of any branch of any bank, or give it to your trust company. Or copy it to your local Victory Loan Headquarters. Or you can authorise your employer to issue a regular payroll deduction for you. Bonds may be bought in denominations of $10, $100, $1000, $1000 and larger. Interest, bank, trust company or your local Victory Loan Headquarters will be glad to give you every assistance in making out your order form.

Happy Birthday!

THE White Elephant Shop has just closed its third year of operations, and the records show that over five thousand dollars have been raised and turned over to Red Cross projects. This is an amazing record and a worthy contribution to any community's war chest. The shop was founded on a basis of goodwill—the goodwill of those who operate it and the public who support it with contributions and by making purchases.

There are some twenty-two members actively engaged in the work of the shop, and the returns average more than two hundred and thirty dollars for each of them. The ladies say that the support of the public was responsible for this showing, but the public had to have something to support, and the White Elephant Shop provided it. The town can well extend congratulations and good wishes to them.

No Niagara-on-the-Lake

THE many readers of the Niagara Advance must have been stunned when they read in the pages of their favorite journal that, actually, there is no such place as Niagara-on-the-Lake. Official records substantiate the statement. All the town's business is done in the name of Niagara Town only. All the government records save those of one department know the community as Niagara Town. The Post Office Department, it seems, was the progenitor of the multi-worded name, and it alone, among all the bureaus and offices of Ottawa and Toronto sticks to its guns. It changed the name so that there would be less confusion in sorting mail intended for Niagara Falls and Niagara Town.

Official records notwithstanding, it would be safe to assume that Niagara-on-the-Lake is the odds-on favorite, and will continue to be the name most often used and recognized. The vast majority of people will fall in behind the post office in support of the longer and more romantic name. It is of interest to note that, in its running heads and masthead, the Advance also supports the post office in its stand.

Canadians' Choice

TO think of reasons why the Victory Loan opening next Monday should receive the support of all Canadians is rather difficult, but it really should not be. The problem is one of putting the strong urgency into the reasons, and bringing home the need with the greatest possible impact. Canada's need right now cannot be emphasized too strongly. One could talk of the sharp and bloody clash at Dieppe, in which Canadians closed with the enemy in mortal combat. The struggle which the Canadians put up on the beaches and in the town last August was something which few Canadians at home can realize. With guns they fought, and tanks and knives and fists. How many people in Canada can actually visualize death in a tank after a direct hit from an anti-tank shell?

One could talk of the oil tankers which bring petroleum products to the country so that people at home can drive to the races and golf courses and all sorts of places. The men who face death on tankers have one of the most difficult jobs in the whole merchant marine. President Roosevelt, in his broadcast last Monday evening, mentioned one of these sailors who escaped by swimming under water. He was lucky. When a torpedo hits a tanker, the oil is set afire by the explosion. Members of the crew jump into the water, but all too often they cannot swim fast enough to escape the growing area of fire. The oil, spilling out of the ship when it explodes, spreads swiftly over a large area, burning the crew beyond recognition. The bodies that float ashore off the eastern United States are interred in nameless graves. A talk with some of the people who have seen these bodies wash ashore would convince all Canadians of the need to purchase Victory Bonds.

One could talk of the unfortunate soldiers, many to them Canadians, who fall into the hands of the Japanese, and what they go through in the way of refined torture. One stunt which the Japs have, and it has been used on Canadians, is to form a ring of soldiers around a group of prisoners, each with a bayonet in his hand. The prisoners are goaded into running from one side to another, impaling themselves on the specially sharpened instruments of death. One man impaled himself three times before he was fortunate enough to escape into unconsciousness and eventual death.

One could talk of the unspeakable conduct of the Japanese toward women captives, not only Chinese women, but British and Canadian and American, but a recital of some of their atrocities would fill every reader with a loathing horror and nausea. The word of men and women who have been through the ordeal cannot be lightly dismissed. The Japanese are our enemies, and sooner or later we will be sending more of our own troops out to meet them.

When one hears of these things, one realizes that the war must be finished, and finished as soon as possible. The resolve is a natural one. Victory Loan subscriptions are but another way of making sure that the home front effort is being maintained to its fullest. Should the Victory Loan fail, increased income taxes, so sharply increased that those now being paid will be nothing like them, will result. Dollars and cents will not stand in the way of victory. The more money the government can borrow and pay back to its people at a rate of interest, the less it will have to take away and keep without returning the principle.

On To Victory

From The Elora Express

THIS town, as much if not more than any community of its size has a vital interest in the success of the coming Third Victory Loan. When we read the Honor Roll of our men overseas, we must realize this.

They have accepted a duty, and we have allowed them to accept it, in the full confidence that all the necessary support for their effort and the offering of their lives in the service of their country would be forthcoming.

There is no possible alternative ahead of us other than to see this war through. There was no possible alternative from the day Germany entered Poland. We do much talking about the fight for democracy. The fact is that we fight for our very lives against a powerful adversary who had a head start.

We fight because, no matter how imperfectly our government may function at times, it is still our government, the form which our fore-fathers made use of to fashion this Canada of ours from a wilderness. If we have been too lazy to make use of it that is our own fault. At its worst and most thoughtless, it is infinitely preferable to the form of totalitarian state known in Germany, and even if it weren't, if we lost the war we should still be the losers. And history will show very plainly what happens to losers.

It doesn't even take history to show what happens to those who lose to the Germans in this war. On Sunday Goering substantiated a rumour to the effect that Germany will starve the conquered nations to fed her army and her own people. Some such gesture is probably due to the German people who may be becoming ravenous under the short rations necessary to keep the troops supplied. And the leaders themselves have no lean and hungry look. In Poland, however, two and a half million people have died of starvation.

The stake we hold is such that we dare not fail to provide every necessity for waging war, from men to guns.

Russia has been holding out beyond our wildest hopes. The time is near, now, of us may know how near, for the thrust that will turn the tide, a victory in our favour. We have the inestimable privilege, thanks to our fortunate geographical position that leads of contributing to that thrust, and it is only we may still speak of privilege in this respect.

In all hope that this may really prove the beginning of a last great effort, let us adopt the suggestion slogan "Nothing Matters Now But Victory," and keep up our record for going over the top.

Vitamins Vindicated

The West: Time and Guide

THE various organizations which have made an extensive study of the vitamins are now in a position to state positively the results. Work carried on by various clinics using animals in the first place and later bringing to their attention experiments on human beings have shown definitely that vitamins are indeed a great factor in the production of healthy, strong, physical beings. Care should be taken to see that a proper analysis is made for the deficiencies in the body. When this is done and the proper vitamins are added then work is carried on very successfully.

SEEN FROM A DISTANCE

"The Odd Man Out" in the Grimsby, England Evening Telegraph.

I picked up a newspaper from my desk the other day bearing the title "The Grimsby Independent".

Not having heard of any contemplated venture of local enterprise, I was surprised. Then I discovered that it was "The Grimsby Independent" of Grimsby, Ontario.

Grimsby, in the County of Lincoln, is only a small place, but it has a jolly good weekly newspaper. It compares favorably with publications in small towns in this country. Well "dressed up". It has some interesting and well-written features.

SAD AND WRITTEN

HITLER'S DEFENSIVE

Hitler's speech in Berlin last week showed that he was clearly on the defensive, not only in the field of battle, but also on the home front.

Rabbi Louis L. Lewman, New York, in his sermon.

HITLER MOCKED

"It is apparent to me that this bad man (Hitler) saw quite clearly the shadow of slowly and remorselessly approaching doom, and that he rallied at fortune for mocking him with the glitter of fleeting success."

Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

A GRIM STAGE

"It must be evident that we are approaching a very grim stage in this battle for freedom and the slogan for the loan truly expresses the situation we face: 'Nothing matters now but victory'."

Finance Minister J. L. Gray.

JAPANESE STRONGER

When the United Kingdom and the United States became at war with Japan we thought the end of our fighting was near. But today the Japanese are stronger than ever in the Far East; and our supply base in Burma is gone.

Dr. T. V. Soong, Chinese Minister for Foreign Affairs.

MIGHT BE NEAR

Victory over the Nazis is not three to five years away, as some people in high positions suggest, but much nearer if the allies display ordinary military capacity."

W. R. Fleeman, in his Toronto Star column, "The War Reviewed."

CHINA AN EQUAL

"Let us make it clear that we look on China as a great equal from whom we can learn much and whom we hope we may be privileged to help and from whom we ask no privileges except for her friendship, the friendship of a brave, gallant Ally."

Sir Stafford Cripps.

GOT TO WIN

"We've got to win this war. We are not winning yet. We have not up to now been able to match the force of our enemies with equal force. And we won't be able to do it until all of our people in the United States and Canada forget their own personal, petty and immediate interests for the duration and devote all their strength, all their resources, all their hearts and souls to the cause of victory."

President William Green of the U. F. of L. in a Toronto speech.

UPHOLDING THE HAND

"As to flippant statements made by certain public officials concerning the expression of my opinion in regard on the question of a second front, I did not deem it appropriate or in good taste for me to reply to such personalities or flippazies while I was in other countries," he said.

"I felt it my duty while abroad to uphold the hand of the president and other United Nations officials, which I continued to do, even when such remarks were made."

Wendell L. Willkie at Elsinboro on route to Washington.

LEFT TO LEADERS

One of the greatest soldiers, Robert E. Lee, once remarked on the tragic fact that in the war of his day all the best generals were apparently working on newspapers instead of in the army. That seems to be true in all wars. The trouble with the typewriter strategists is that while they may be full of bright ideas, they are not in possession of much information about the facts or problems of military operations. We therefore will continue to leave the plans of this war to the military leaders.

President Roosevelt is making a broadcast.

This is one of the valuable prizes in the Z.O.D.E. Retail Purifiers' Draw. Tickets may be procured from members, or at the booth in Kammacher's all day Saturday, October 10th.

Rommel Legend Debunked

The London Free Press

GEN. ERWIN VON ROMMEL

German commander in North Africa, who may figure again in war news shortly, has been turned into a sort of glamor boy by correspondents who knew very little of his true antecedents. They have been telling us he was a corporal in the First World War; that he was the son of a bricklayer; that he began his military career as a ranker. All of which is romantic but untrue. Rommel has been neither police officer, Nazi Storm Trooper, nor even an heroic leader of the Nazi party. He has never been unorthodox.

Actually, according to The London Daily Herald, which has been rummaging among the papers of the Rommel family, this German commander comes from a well-known Munich family. His father was professor of mathematics at Munich University. Young Rommel went to a technical college (the foundation apparently for his machine-mindedness and expert knowledge of tanks and tank repairs) and won a commission in the First World War. For years before the present war he was teacher of strategy in three leading German military colleges, Karlsruhe, Potsdam and (after the Anschluss in 1938) in Wiener Neustadt. He simply learned his job and was a good student. That is Rommel's secret. A good secret weapon, though.

Atlantic Ferry Miracles

The Winnipeg Free Press

THERE is the story of the ferry aircraft missing for 45 days, dead and frozen on Greenland, most thought.

The pilot of the ship was from Vermont, but the three other members of the crew were Englishmen. Flying across Greenland in a Hudson they rode nightmarish conditions. After everything that was bad had been felt, one of the engines failed. The pilot, the story is told in the Manchester Guardian, began to give out. In the forced landing, the wheel broke through the ice. But the first of two miracles saved the ship that time. Once, twice, the engine came to life, and once, twice, the aircraft lifted out of the water.

A third attempt to land was made in a bowl rimmed by mountains 8,000 feet high. Believe it or not, as the air crew did not know what to think, a flagpole was set on one of the slopes, as though to be steered by the pilot. The crew were getting ready to swim for it when the engine crashed, but they kept their boots on while a team of huskies with a line of men behind them dashed towards the aircraft in the wilderness.

This would be a storybook fable if the men with the huskies were not an American detachment sent eight months before to establish a post. They had been marooned from the world awaiting relief, but providentially at the exact spot to welcome and help the fallen member's crew.

The chance was a million-to-one shot, but brought the airmen down near an Eskimo hamlet. All hands helped to salvage the equipment of the aircraft before the sun set.

Love is a fire that grows and enlarges, until it warms and beams upon multitudes of men and women, upon the universal heart of all, and so lights up the whole world, and all nature with its generous flame.—R. W. Monroe.

Production

The "By Post-Record

DECISIVE battles in this war are being fought on the production fronts. A highly interesting statement in the August letter of the Bank of Montreal suggests that Canada is winning one of these battles. The statement is: "In the manufacturing field there is some evidence that the peak of national capacity for the production of war materials has nearly been reached." Presumably Canada's production of war materials will attain its maximum when the Selective Service program, using compulsion where necessary, shifts man and woman power from non-essential war work.

Red Cross

At the Red Cross workroom last night the October shipment was completed in readiness for the transport to pick up. The package for the Navy contained 12 pairs 26 inch stockings, 12 pair 18 inch stockings, 14 turtle neck sweaters, 7 turtle neck tuck-ins, 7 pair mitts, 1 ser. cap, 1 scarf, and 1 pr. heavy socks.

Nine helmets, 15 alternative caps, 19 pair gloves and 7 sleeveless sweaters were packed for the army.

For British civilians there were 19 boys' pyjamas, 13 girls' pyjamas, 19 boys' shirts, 2 boys' long trousers, 6 children's sweaters, 2 children's knitted suits, 1 girl's coat, 1 blouse, and 2 ditty bags.

Layette articles completed were 1 small afghan, 1 vest, 4 bonnets, 1 pair mitts, 1 nightgown, 6 jackets, 6 pair booties. Seven hospital bedgowns were included in the shipment.

The Branch's quota of 48 sailors' comfort bags has been turned in, complete to the last detail. Each "ditty bag" contains 1 pair socks, 4 handkerchiefs, 1 towel, 1 wash-cloth, 1 pack cards, 1 book, 1 packable notepad and envelopes, 1 pencil, 1 comb, 1 toothbrush, and tin of toothpowder, 1 pipe, and a packet of tobacco, 1 shaving stick, 1 cake of soap, 1 pound of candy, packet of chiclets, packet of razor blades, and one "housewife" containing one skein each of grey, blue and black yarn, two spools of thread, a dozen needles for sewing and darning, safety pins, buttons and shoe lace.

Record Set When Nephew Of Local Lady Graduated

Mrs. Gordon L. Eaton has received word that her nephew, Bruce Garlick, has graduated from the R.C.A.F. initial training course with an average of 96 per cent. This is believed to be the highest marks obtained under the Commonwealth Air Training program since its inauguration.

Leading Aircraftman Garlick is a grandson of the late J. B. Mazzatorta, formerly of Grimsby. He took his initial training course at Victoriaville, Quebec, and attributes his success to the fact that he was stationed "so far from anywhere." He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Garlick of Toronto. In a wire received by his father from the officer commanding the station, it was stated that Garlick "headed his course with 96 per cent average on all subjects and also obtained one of the highest marks in character and leadership."

To Buy Inhalator

The joint fire committee of the town of Grimsby and North Grimsby Township last week approved of the purchase of an inhalator. Purchase of this equipment was urged by local doctors and the Grimsby Lions Club, and when it was brought up at last month's meeting of the town council, Dr. B. B. Rogers, who appeared on behalf of proponents of the scheme, was referred to the joint fire committee of the two municipalities.

The purchase was urged following the drowning of a Montreal man here last summer.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mr. Jack Hochal, Toronto, was a holiday visitor in town.

P.O. Livingston Foster, Mrs. Foster and Judith, are in town for two weeks.

Mrs. Harold Woolverton left on Sunday to spend the winter in California.

Miss Doris Bromley, Toronto, was a holiday visitor at the home of her brother, L. A. Bromley.

Miss Marilyn Milyard spent the holiday in Toronto, the guest of Yvonne Ockenden.

George Bell, Manager of the Dominion Store, spent the holiday at his home in Orillia.

Robert Watt, Toronto, and George, of Belleville, spent Sunday at the home of their parents, Rev. and Mrs. W. J. Watt.

Miss Madelene Blanchard spent the holiday weekend in Toronto, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Coupland.

Miss Marion Hill, of Brantford, was the guest of Miss Doris Walters, Oak street, over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Webb, of Port Erie, spent the holiday weekend with Mrs. Webb's mother, Mrs. Annie Phipps, Ontario street.

The Ontario Horticultural Association has awarded to Edward Freshwater, through the Grimsby Horticultural Society, a Diploma "For Meritorious Service to Horticulture."

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Liles, 22 Robinson south, was the scene of a family re-union on Thanksgiving Day, when guests were present from Hamilton, St. Catharines and Waterford.

The many friends of Mrs. Ges. R. Konkle, Fairview Avenue, will be glad to know that she is recovering from her recent operation. She returned to her home from Hamilton General Hospital last Monday.

Members of the B. Y. P. U. of Grimsby Baptist Church attended a Rally at Jepson street Baptist Church, Niagara Falls, Ont., on Thanksgiving Day. Miss Kay Ossichuk, of the local organization, was one of the members of the Association Cabinet installed for the coming year at this rally.

Services at the Baptist Church on Sunday were in keeping with the festival of Thanksgiving. Mr. A. V. King, of Hamilton, occupied the pulpit both morning and evening, and Miss Jean Anderson, also of Hamilton, contributed several violin solos. The church was attractive with harvest decorations.

Invitations have been issued for the annual dinner dance of the officers of the Lincoln and Welland regiment to be held in the General Brock Hotel, Niagara Falls, on the evening of October 14th.

The newly formed Bible Class in the Baptist Church made a good beginning last Sunday with an attendance of fourteen.

The 61st annual match of Saltfleet Flushing Society, which is open to the Dominion, will be held on the farm of George Gowland, Tapleytown, on November 2nd.

Chief Denill reports that of late few transients have asked for a night's lodgings at the police station. This would appear to indicate an improvement in the unemployment situation. Some time ago the accommodation at the fire hall was taxed to its capacity on account of the large number of transients seeking lodgings.

At the October meeting of the Town Council, the following were selected as members of the Public Welfare Board of the town of Grimsby: the Revs. and the chairman of the finance committee for the current year, Mrs. W. H. Groce, Mr. A. Davies, Mrs. Geo. Warner, Eric Johnson, and Chas. H. Walker.

Lincoln County Flushing match will be held on Tuesday, October 25th, at the farm of John Cusby, St. Anna. John Hurd, Grimsby, is president of the association, and Walter Wilson, Beamsville, is secretary.

In spite of the agreement of grape growers at largely attended meetings last week to cease cutting grapes until they were assured of a minimum basket price of 15 cents, the "strike" failed. According to C. W. Bauer, of the Ontario Growers' Markets Council, the hold-up in shipments failed because fully 25% of the growers did not participate in the grape strike.

Interesting Facts In Graded Lunches Brought To Light In Plant Cafeterias

How do your lunches rate? When trained nutritionists from Nutrition Services at Ottawa visit Canada's war industry plants they rate the workers' lunches, whether bought in the plant cafeteria or carried from home as good, "fair" or poor.

Some interesting facts have been brought to light during these surveys. For example, it was found that a bought lunch is twice as likely to rate "good" as a lunch carried from home though the number of "fair" lunches are about equally divided between the "boughts" and the "carrieds". Poor lunches, however, were twice as frequent in the "carried" class.

The majority of the poor lunches belonged to the women workers!

You don't have to work in a war plant to learn where you stand on the lunch question. Whether you are at home, at school, in factory or office you can grade your own; and remember—a fair lunch just isn't good enough when good health and maximum efficiency on the job are so vitally important.

This is the simple way to grade your own lunches as the experts do. Three categories of food must be considered:

1.—Protein foods such as meat, fish, eggs, cheese or beans either in a sandwich or a plate lunch.

2.—A vegetable other than potato, or a fruit.

3.—Milk, preferably as a beverage, though cream soup, a milk dessert or a scalloped dish made with milk will make the grade.

Your lunch is "good" if it contains some food from each group, "fair" if only two groups are represented, and "poor" if it includes only one or none of the three important groups of foods.

Farm Machinery Rationed To Save Steel, Latest Order

To obtain fair distribution of all types of farm machinery the manufacture of which has been drastically cut in order to divert steel to the war industries across Canada, rationing of all new farm machinery and equipment was announced last week by the War-time Prices and Trade Board.

This new ration plan makes it essential for farmers to file applications made out by themselves, countersigned by their local dealers, reported on by the branch managers of the various implement companies, and finally approved by the Board through its regional offices.

In order for a farmer to purchase new equipment he must file a statement showing the number of horses, cattle, and sheep he owns, the number of acres in crop on the farm, the number in summer fallow, and a full description of similar usable equipment which he owns at present.

The farmer must give not only a full statement on the description of the old machine, but also must state whether it can be repaired, if a trade-in is involved. He will be asked for his reason for trading it in, if it can be put back into service. If he is changing over from farm machinery suitable for horses, mules, or oxen to power driven equipment, once again he must give complete reasons for the change over.

The order states that no one may make more than one application for any equipment by entering an application through another dealer. Dealers are responsible to the Administrator of farm and construction machinery. They are also responsible for obtaining the complete application form from the customers. When a trade-in is involved the dealer is required to point out how soon the old machine can be reconditioned. If it is possible to repair it, or if it cannot be repaired to undertake that the machinery will be turned in for metal scrap.

The only type of new farm machinery and equipment excepted from the rationing order are attachments, repair and spare parts, track-laying type tractors, irrigation or drainage equipment, hand tools, and cooler refrigeration units.

Home Touches Sent Overseas Valuable To Hospital Cases In Red Cross Care

By GARRY ALLIGHAN

London — Home touches deftly applied by deputes for far-distant loved ones are brightening the lives of Canadian servicemen on the sick list in this country. Every day the men in hospital beds are reminded of home by the comforts and delicacies supplied by the Canadian Red Cross in the name of those near and dear where the thoughts of the men are constantly reverting.

The invalids' delicacies thus provided are regarded by the hospital authorities as possessing vital therapeutic value, contributing greatly to the recovery of health.

Efficient organization by the Canadian Red Cross headquarters in London now ensures that no man in the Canadian forces will be left for even a week without such ministrations of mercy. The visitors, almost entirely Canadian women, call on the men as they lie in sight Canadian Military Hospitals, three casualty Clearing Stations and four Medical Centres. Not are the Canadians, mostly airmen in British hospitals overlooked—the matrons will supply prepaid post-cards on which the Red Cross is notified as soon as Canadians arrive. Every man who has exchanged his Canadian uniform for hospital dress receives these invaluable additions to food and medicines from the nurses.

Every Canadian Red Cross visitor is provided with a list of delicacies in stock and consults the matron of the hospital with this. There are never fewer than 40 items available ranging from fruit juices and diabetic diets to cigarettes and candies. Whatever the matron decides is good for the men is immediately supplied and 25 cigarettes and two packets of chewing gum which are sent every week.

Last month 23,818 packets of cigarettes and 245 pounds of pipe tobacco were supplied as well as 110,000 items of stationery on which the men can write and make home sweet home sweater.

Controlling this department at the Canadian Red Cross headquarters under Mrs. Stickney is Mrs. Arthur Greer of Montreal who administers the services which bring joy and comfort to every Canadian serviceman on the sick list. She dispenses millions of items totalling tons of love from home. Particularly important are the diabetic foodstuffs such as Biogene Cocoa and Cawdill Jam, also gallons of Turtle Sou and cans of Vitone.

One room of Mrs. Greer's department is as impenetrable by ordinary folks as the dungeons of the Tower of London—it contains cigarettes and tobacco in bond. Every month the stocks are inspected by a customs and excise officer who compares them with receipts from hospitals, thus ensuring that not even a single rag or grain of tobacco is unaccounted for. Every stick of barley sugar and cube of maple sugar is carefully checked as well as other foodstuffs which are rationed here, so that no unfair use is made "off coupon." When the Queen visited the headquarters a few days back, she was presented with a small box of maple sugar for the princesses and even that was entered in the records as well as an odd piece of barley sugar which the Queen crunched on the spot.

This work goes on throughout every 24 hours unceasingly. It is a Canadian Red Cross sideline but evaluated by medical authorities here as priceless because in addition to providing essential body-building foodstuffs, it brings a waif of affection over the Atlantic making the men feel that those at home are remembering them with love which has a profound physiological effect in speeding their physical recovery. This work by Mrs. Greer, her headquarters staff and the corps of visitors all over the country is done voluntarily without a paid staff whatever. It is labor love under "In as much" banner.

TO THE EDITOR

Grimby,
October 2, 1942.

To the Editor of The Independent.
Sir:

I was hoping to see in a recent issue of your paper a challenge to the Secretary of The Lord's Day Alliance re working on Sundays. What does he mean by "The Lord's Day"?

Evidently he assumes that the day we call "Sunday" should be kept as one of God's commands to the Jews, to keep the seventh day of the week, holy unto the Lord.

Can your Toronto correspondent tell us when, how and why the seventh day of the week was changed to the first, and called the Lord's day?

Is it true that following lawful work on Sunday is injurious to the worker's health?

Records of manufacturers show, that on Monday mornings, more accidents occur on the day following the "keeping" of the Lord's day than on any other.

Of the ten commandments given to Moses, the first four show us our duty to God while the other six, our duty to man.

No earthly government has power to compel men to keep the first four of the ten commandments. Imagine Ottawa imposing on Canadians punishment or fines for taking God's name in vain—the outstanding sin of the present generation.

Lawful manual labour on Sunday, in comparison, would be approved by all who give earnest thought to the matter.

Mr. Webber implies that merchants and their employees, were the worst offenders and that the Lord's Day Alliance approached the government mainly on their account. What has been the result? Understand and numerous illicit sales which did more harm than good to the above classes.

All legislation on this and similar objects is like whitewashing a rotten wall, to keep it from falling.

Yours truly,
Observer.

PARADE RAIN OR SHINE
A. R. Globe yesterday stated that the Victory Loan Parade would be held "rain or shine," and that in the event of inclement weather the ceremonies would be held within the school building.

Obituary

D. ALWAY JACOBS

After a long illness contracted while serving in the home guard, Kent, England, where he and his wife were visiting at the beginning of the war, Daniel Alway Jacobs died at the home of his sister, Mrs. William Game, Robinson street, on Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs returned to Canada last month after crossing the Atlantic on a United States troopship, the passage having been arranged through the personal intervention of the Canadian High Commissioner in London, Vincent Massey.

Mr. Jacobs was the son of the late Zachariah and Margaret Jacobs of North Grimsby Township, and was in his sixty-second year. He was a member of St. Andrew's Church. Besides his wife he is survived by four stepsons and one stepdaughter, Louis Game, Grimsby; Edward Barber Paris; Cpl. Edwin Barber, Jarvis; Cpl. Wm. Barber, Windsor, and Mrs. Ellen Ward, in England. He also leaves two sisters and two brothers, Mrs. William Game, and Mrs. Clara Walker, both of Grimsby; Arthur Jacobs, Smithville, and William Jacobs, Wainona.

Rev. J. A. Ballard conducted the services at the funeral which was held from St. John's Funeral Home on Tuesday afternoon, with the following acting as pallbearers: Cecil Farrow, Wm. Pearson, Sr. Edward Lamont, Roy Farrel, Andrew Swyce and Murray Lawrie.

Mrs. Thomas Schofield, wife of Mrs. Rosina Schofield, was held today from the St. John's Funeral Home, with Rev. J. A. Ballard conducting the service, interment being made in Queen's Cemetery.

Mrs. Schofield, who was in her seventy-second year, has been a resident of Grimsby for the past fifty-eight years, having been born in London, England, and coming to Canada over sixty years ago. She is survived by her husband, the daughters, Mrs. Eva Brookins and Mrs. Wm. Layton, both of Grimsby, and Mrs. D. Dunham, Battle, Washington. A son, Fred, resides in New York City.

The pallbearers were Frank Hitchman, Wm. Johnson, Cecil Farrow, James Gowan, Edgar Farwell and Wm. Shaw.
